

BOY OF 20; IN JAIL 13 YEARS

Sent to Juvenile Asylum at the Age of Seven, James Frank Daly Comes from Sing Sing Ignorant of the World.

YOUTH HAS LOST ALL TRACK OF HIS FAMILY.

Is Being Cared For by David Willard, Probation Officer Who Will Assist in Search for the Young Man's Relatives.

Had astray by his own brother, denied the joys of childhood and the sports of boyhood, kept behind prison bars for the past thirteen years, James Frank Daly came out of Sing Sing Prison to-day like a lad of seven, despite his twenty years. He had never seen a trolley car, an automobile, the completed Brooklyn Bridge, played a game of ball, gone swimming or done any of the things that are perquisites of youth. All these thirteen years in jail—because his elder brother led him to "play hooky" from school when he was only seven years old.

David Willard, the probation officer of the Special and General Sessions courts, has taken the young man to his home at No. 130 Chrystie street, and will try to find work for him at carpentering, which Daly learned in prison, or at anything else.

The young man's sad story appealed especially to Mr. Willard—who has been a good Samaritan to many other boys as well—because in the thirteen years at prison life Daly has lost all track of his parents, his four brothers and two sisters. Mr. Willard will try to find them for him and asked the Evening World to assist.

Brother Led Him Astray. Daly was but seven years old when his brother William, three years older, introduced him to the joys of "hooky." The two got as far as Spuyten Duyvil on their escapade when they were caught. James was sent to the Juvenile Asylum on account of his truancy, but he does not remember what happened to William.

"It's true that I naturally had a bad temper," said young Daly in recounting his story, "but it was far from being improved in the asylum. They seemed to cross me all the time, and I guess I got worse instead of better. It was in 1891 that they first put me away. I stayed in the asylum until along in '94, and then they transferred me to the House of Refuge on Randall's Island."

"I wasn't taught a thing there and grew so ugly that most of the time they had to keep me in a cage. I don't know what it was all about—no one ever told me anything, and I was too young to pick up knowledge of affairs myself. I, with two other boys, planned to escape, but we were caught. At the Reformatory. That was no improvement, and I really don't know why I was allowed to be alive. I used to wonder why folks were born, anyway. Then a keeper one day caught me smoking tobacco given me by another boy, and he struck me on the head."

Became Good in Sing Sing. "I cut my cheek open and I fought back. It was Sing Sing for me, then. That was in 1900, I think. At the penitentiary I learned something for the first time, and began to understand what it was all about. I realized for the first time what I was expected to do and my conduct improved right along. I hung onto my temper and got along so well that I earned six months' good time, and am out before I am twenty-one."

Mr. Willard heard of my case and sent for me to come to his home. He knows that all I want now is to find my folks, find work and be a decent man. I don't know much of books and I want to learn. It's late to start, but I guess I can catch up if I really get a chance. I now know what's expected of boys and men, and I'm ready to show that I mean to do what's right. I wish so hard that 'Billy' had never made me run away. My folks used to live on either One Hundred and Twenty-first or One Hundred and Twenty-second street, between First and Second avenues, but there's no trace of any of them now."

TRUCKMAN HELD IN $500.

Charged with Running Down Nurse and Two Children.

John Carroll, of No. 541 West Twenty-ninth street, a truckman employed by the American Transfer Company, was held in $500 bail for examination on Saturday next. He is charged with running down Lizzie Ackers, a nurse girl employed by Charles L. Harrell, of the Hotel Jefferson, at No. 100 East Fifteenth street, and her children at Broadway and Fifteenth street last night.

PORTRAIT OF MAN NOT ON WATCH YET

Young Mr. Shaw's Check Difficulty Led to His Arrest on Charge of Retaining a Young Woman's Timepiece.

Robert B. Shaw, of No. 220 West Twentieth street, was a prisoner in Jefferson Market Court to-day charged with grand larceny by Jeanne E. Keipper, twenty-two years old, of No. 24 West Twenty-fourth street.

Shaw's arrest came about through his arraignment yesterday on the charge of having named a worthless draft. The case was settled. News of this arraignment reached Miss Keipper, and she caused his arrest. She charged that she gave Shaw her watch valued at $50, on March 10, the understanding being that Shaw was to have his picture etched on the inside of the case. Shaw never returned the watch, she declared. He was held in $1,000 bail for trial.

The prisoner claims to be a son of D. R. Shaw of the Secret-Service force who during the past summer was detailed at Oyster Bay. He is now attached to President Roosevelt's guard at Washington.

Shaw, the police say, is wanted in several other towns, and a man who claimed to be a sheriff from Long Island was in court when he was arraigned. Shaw lives with his mother and two sisters, and is a bookkeeper in a downtown store.

Three Hundred More Suits and Top Coats

Are added to-day to what is already recognized and accepted as in all respects the most notable clothing offer made in New York during many seasons. The inexpensive favor of inspection is all that is asked for these new lots.

The new SUITS are of much higher priced Cheviots, Cassimeres, Tibets, Homespuns and rich Unfinished Worsteds. The new TOP COATS are of fine Vicunas and Coverts. The linings and tailoring are of the sort that belong to good custom work. Hence these garments contain not less than $15 worth of value and present all the appearance of custom clothes costing a good deal more. The sale price is Ten Dollars.

THEY BLEW UP SAFE BUT FOUND NO CASH

Samuel Arlin, owner of a blacksmithing establishment at No. 31 Adams street, Brooklyn, saved several hundred dollars last night by taking his money out of the big safe in his office when he closed the place for the day.

Smith employs thirty men and on Wednesdays usually puts their salaries in the safe for payment later on in the week. When his engineer arrived to-day he found the padlock at the outer door twisted and the safe in the office blown open.

Capt. Condy, of the Fulton street station, was sent for. He said the work was that of professional safe-breakers, nitro-glycerine having been used. Martin was quite jubilant upon his arrival as all his money had been removed by him the night before.

PROF. KOCH'S LYMPH INHALATION

Cures Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption.

There are no forms of disease of greater importance in our country than that which passes under the name of Asthma, Bronchitis, Tuberculosis or Consumption. It is so often said to be incurable, and yet perhaps in no ailment is the meaning, "runs in families," well understood. It is a mischievous disease that one has when he thinks he cannot have consumption, because his parents did not have it. Exposure often causes it, a cold "that hangs on," cough, catarrh and weak stomach often "run" into consumption. The germs may enter the blood through the lungs or the stomach. The result is the same and the treatment should destroy them. First examination at 110 West 22d st. by a skilled specialist of 25 years' experience in lung diseases. Before I went to the doctor at 110 WEST 22d street, next to BRICK'S store, I had asthma a great many years, so bad I had to give up my baker business, was so short of breath and coughed so much I could not sleep. Now I feel well and work all the time, save Mr. H. Blumh, 127 Myrtle av., Brooklyn.

KOCH'S CURE Cures Catarrh, Hoarseness and Stomach Troubles. Call or write, Hours 11 to 6 daily. Sundays 11 to 2. DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Incorporated, 110 WEST 22D ST., between 6th and 7th avs., and next to Brick's Store, N. Y. Phone 122-18.

ABRAHAM AND STRAUS

Friday's Economies for Everybody.

These Friday sales are famous. In them the whole Store unites in great underprice offerings, presenting economies altogether without equal anywhere. The woman who misses Friday in the Abraham and Straus Store misses a chief opportunity to make her dollars do double duty. But each Friday as it passes is a record to be surpassed, and so the news that is told to-day is news of perhaps the greatest values we have ever offered. The goods are new, of high character, desirable. The prices touch the low-water mark. Read the details:

Friday's Tremendous Values.

Friday's Tremendous Values.
Walking Suits, $17.50.
Beautiful and beautifully made—we think them the most splendid Tailored Suits for women ever sold for such a little price. This Store of Tailored Wear for women has been bounding ahead—the greatly enlarged space has not been an inch too much this week. Such offerings as this are characteristic. The Suits are made of fine, soft zibeline in navy blue, brown, green and gun metal. Jacket is the new long coat with blouse front, pleated collar and taffeta silk lined, full puff sleeves with turn cuffs—nothing could be smarter. Skirt is seven gore style with flare bottom and lap seams. Unlined and walking length—just skipping the ground. Full $25.00 value, at $17.50. $7.50 and $9.00 Skirts, $4.95. Just a hundred—a pity the number is not three times as large. They are of black cheviot, broadcloth, etamine, voile and canvas, handsomely trimmed with bands of taffeta silk. Unlined and with demi-train. Second floor, front, Central Building.

Friday's Tremendous Values.
Women's Untrimmed Hats, $1.89. Were $2.25 to $3.45.
Some of the prettiest of the new Hats cannot be duplicated because there is no more material to be had. Lines are broken—perhaps not all colors of a style, perhaps all colors, but a very small group left. So there is a Friday opportunity—$2.25 to $3.45 Hats at $1.89. Some are chenille and chiffon, some Liberty silk and braid. There are many other combinations, all fresh and pretty and charming. Main floor, front, East Building.

Friday's Tremendous Values.
Millinery Trimmings. Prices Trimmed Down.
The handsomest and most wanted things in dainty Hat Trimmings. Women know by experience that this Millinery Store shows nothing but the best and latest things.
